

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

It was María Eugenia Aubet's suggestion to collect the Iron Age funerary stelae from Lebanon and to publish them in a special volume of Cuadernos de Arqueología Mediterránea. For her encouragement and continuous support, I am deeply thankful.

I would like to extend my thanks to Mr. Frédéric Husseini, Director General of the Lebanese Department of Antiquities, for having granted me permission to include in this study unpublished stelae from the Beiteddin and National Museum collections.

My gratitude also goes to the German Archaeological Institute, and more specifically to the directors of the Orient Department, Professor Dr. Ricardo Eichmann and Dr. Margarete van Ess, for having given me the opportunity to spend two months in Berlin to complete the manuscript.

I would finally like to thank Mr. André Lemaire who kindly sent me original photographs of the stelae he published.
